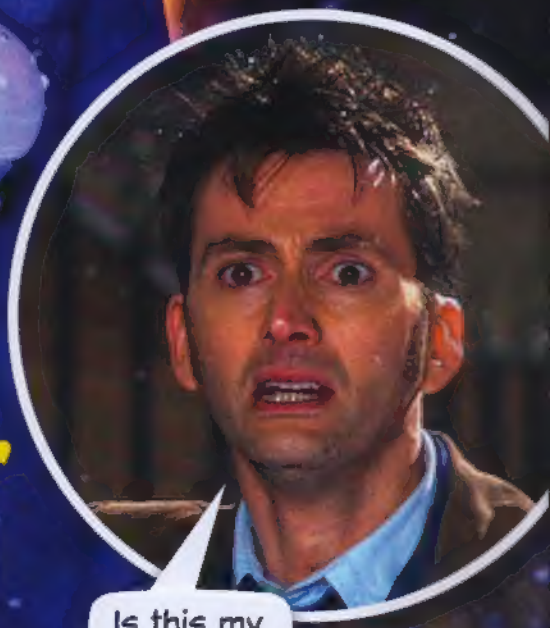
HOW can the Master be alive again?

COUNTDOWN TO CHANGE

We know the Tenth Doctor's time is about to come to an end, but just how will that happen? Here are all the clues we know so far!



THE BIG QUESTIONS!

WARNING!
SKIP THE NEXT TWO PAGES IF YOU DON'T WANT TO KNOW LOADS OF SECRETS!

LOOK WHO'S COMING BACK!

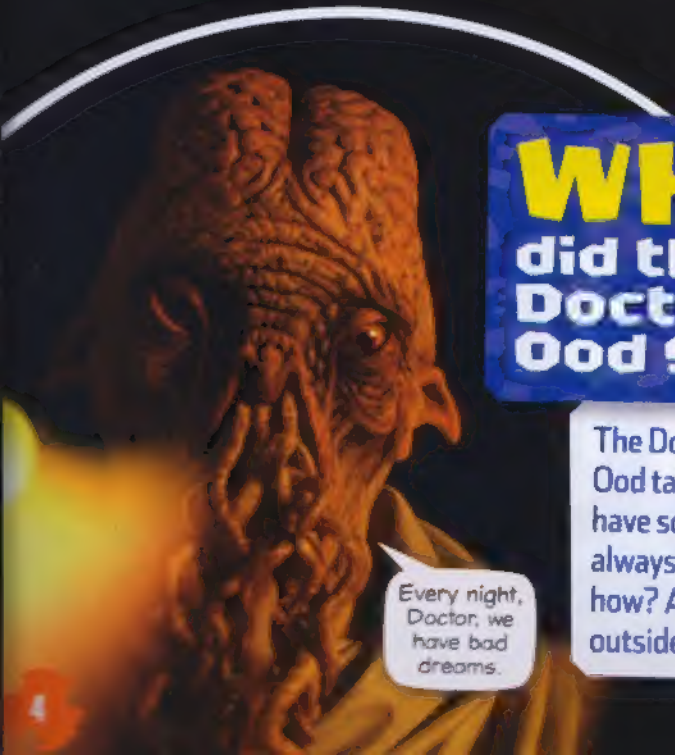
Wilf

The Master

Lucy, the Master's wif

WHERE is the TARDIS going next?

The Doctor finds himself on Earth once again, where he meets Donna's grandad, Wilf. We know Donna must never be reminded of the Doctor or she could die, so something really serious must be happening for Wilf to take such a huge risk!



WHY did the Doctor see Ood Sigma?

The Doctor returns to the Ood-Sphere, where a wise old Ood talks about having terrible nightmares. Do they have something to do with the Doctor? Ood Sigma always seems to know what the future has in store – but how? A spooky vision of him appeared in the street outside Adelaide's house. Was this a final warning?

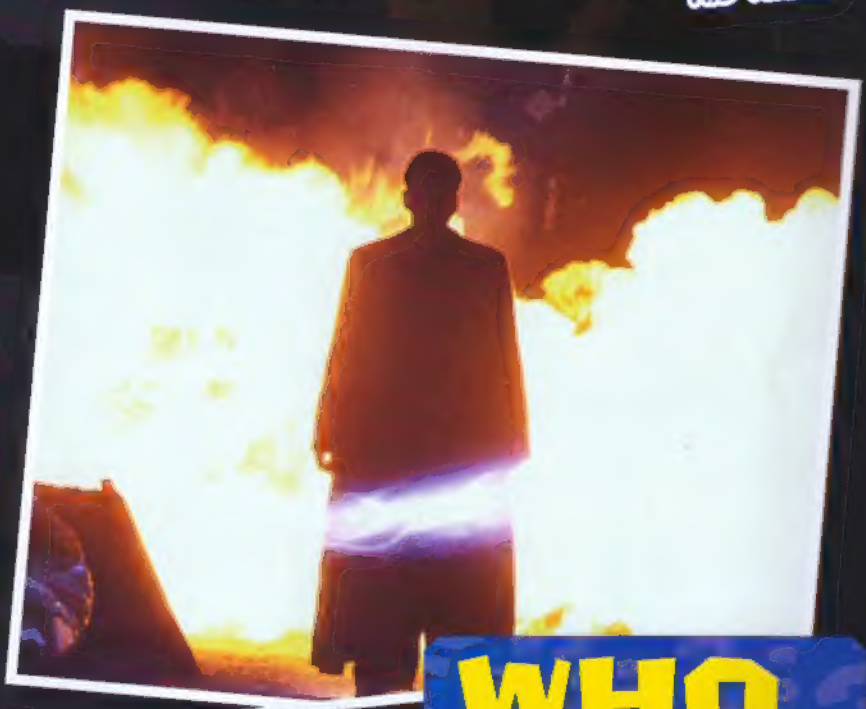
LOADS OF INFO EVERY WEEK!

HOW can the Master be alive again?

The last time we saw the Doctor's archenemy, he was dead. The Doctor even burned his body on a funeral pyre. But after the Doctor left, a woman's hand reached into the ashes and took the Master's ring. Does this have something to do with his shock comeback? Lucy Saxon is returning, too – maybe she is involved.

WHAT is the Gate?

When the Doctor met the creepy Trickster in The Sarah Jane Adventures, he was warned that the Gate was waiting for him. But is the Gate keeping something out, or holding something in? All will be revealed at Christmas!



WHO will knock four times?

That's the biggest secret of all, and we're not going to tell you. You'll just have to wait and see!

Logo gallery!

Look how much the Doctor Who logo has changed over the years

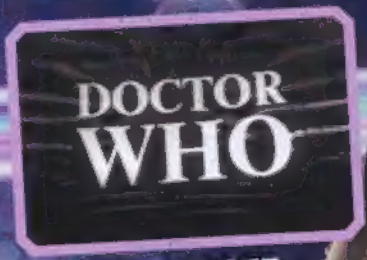
When the series started in 1963, this is what the logo looked like.



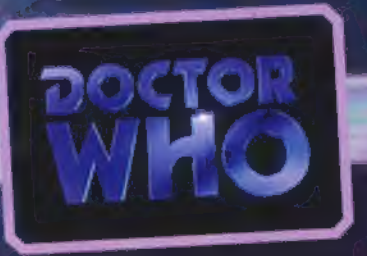
Then in 1967, it changed to this one.

In 1970, viewers got to see the first colour logo. Wow!

Getting experimental with the graphics, this was created in 1973.

This logo looked very futuristic when it appeared in 1980.

By 1987, the logo had a very bright and colourful look.



For the Ninth Doctor's special adventure in 1996, it looked a lot like the 1970 version.

But here's the one you will know and love! It was designed for the return of Doctor Who in 2005.

And this will be the new logo for the new Doctor! It will be everywhere next year!

THESE INFERIOR LOGOS MUST BE UPGRADED TO THE CYBUS INDUSTRIES LOGO!

This week's TOP TEN

Check out our fave bits from the lastest series of The Sarah Jane Adventures!

TOP 10 MOMENTS

THE Sarah Jane ADVENTURES

10 Tongue terror

Escaped prisoner Androvax hid himself in Sarah Jane's body, but his long, slimy, forked tongue kept slithering out of her mouth. Yuck!

9 Welcome home, K-9

We were as happy as K-9 was to hear that Eve needed the power of a black hole to fuel her spaceship. It meant K-9 could stop guarding Earth and come home at last!

8 Creepsville!

Clyde and Rani thought they'd hit the jackpot when they found alien tech in Darkening's lair – until they realised he was there, too!

7 Art attack!

We couldn't believe it when Leonardo Da Vinci's Mona Lisa came to life and trapped poor Miss Trupp in her painting!

6 They're back!

You can always count on the Slitheen for terrible whiffs and harebrained schemes to make money out of Earth – and they didn't let us down!

DOCTOR WHO MAGAZINE

5 Clyde vs Trickster

When Clyde scooped a handful of Artron energy from the TARDIS, he was able to give the Trickster a shock he'd never forget. What a hero!

4 Defeating Darkening

This mad magician thought he was cleverer than everyone else, but he was no match for Sarah Jane! She tricked him into a magnetic field and sent him to his doom.

3 Messy eaters

Watching the Blathereen gobble down a big bowl of steaming Rakweed, while getting most of it down their chins, was fantastically disgusting!

2 Busted!

The moment when Captain Tybo asked a driver to lower the volume on his car stereo was priceless!

1 Just in time

Our fave bit of the whole series has to be the Doctor bursting into Sarah Jane's wedding and discovering the Trickster was behind it all. Just brilliant!

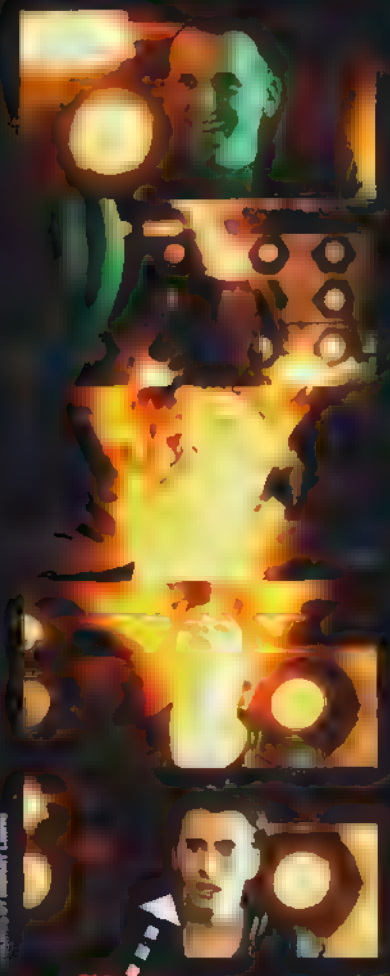
COUNTDOWN TO CHANGE

Our amazing guide to all the Doctor's regenerations!

The Doctor will change his appearance later this year!

Actor Christopher Eccleston played the Doctor in 2005

THE NINTH DOCTOR



What was he like?

The energetic Ninth Doctor could be incredibly serious one moment, then silly and funny the next. He liked the word 'fantastic' and his accent sounded as if he came from the north of England.

What did he wear?

This Doctor liked to wear an old leather jacket. He had a couple of favourite jumpers, too!

Why did he change?

To save his best friend, Rose Tyler, the Doctor absorbed all the energy of the Time Vortex – something that's very dangerous! This caused every cell in his body to die, so he regenerated.

It's the Tenth Doctor!

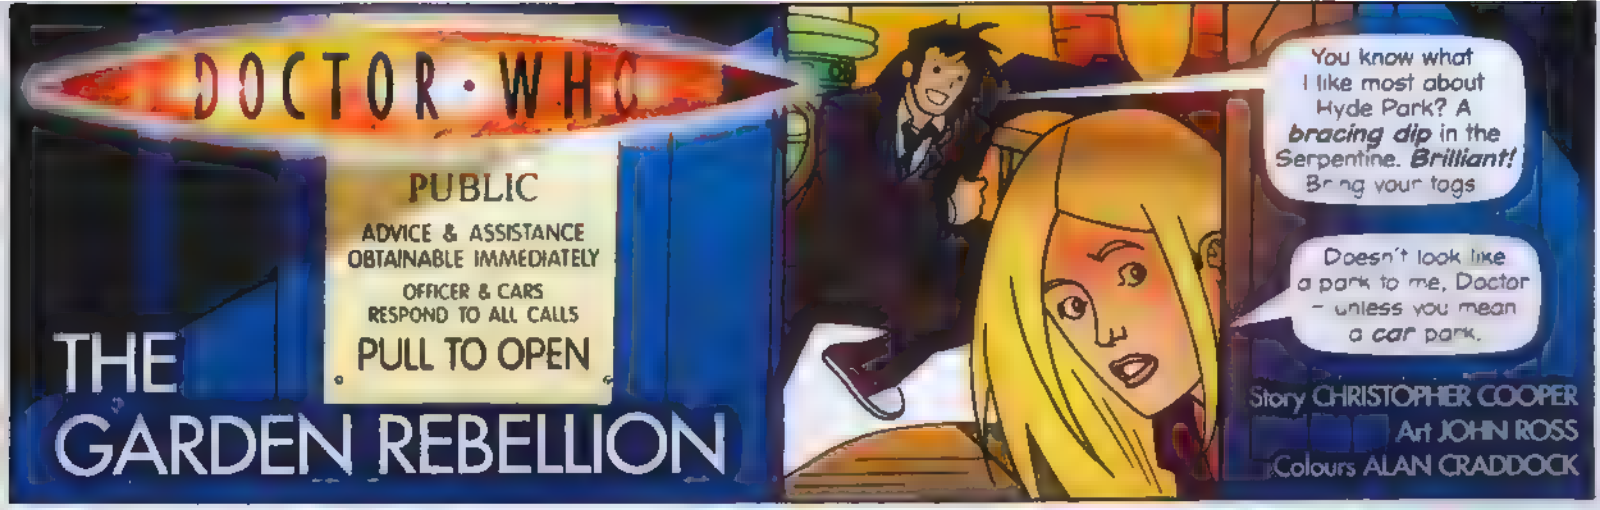
THE GARDEN REBELLION



Story CHRISTOPHER COOPER
Art JOHN ROSS
Colours ALAN CRADDOCK

What are those things, Doctor?
Haven't got a clue – keep running!

Without warning, the ground gives way under the Doctor's feet.
CRACK!
Whoah...
DOCTOR!

OK, so I'm surrounded by angry little mobile greenhouses. If only I had some compost and a trowel.

Meanwhile, somewhere underground...
Nothing broken. Have to get back up and find Heather... Eh? Who are you?

Keep quiet. Sounds like they're moving away.
My friend is up there, and she's in danger.
You mustn't go up there. If you're seen, they might find the rest of us. We'll be monoxised for sure!

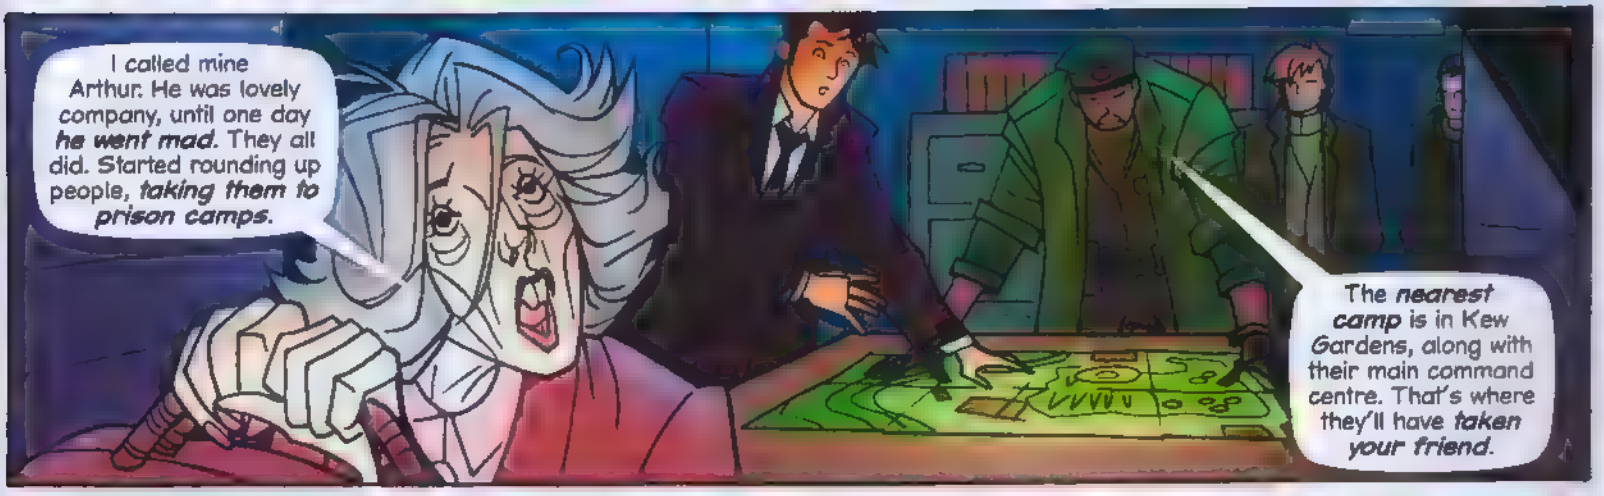
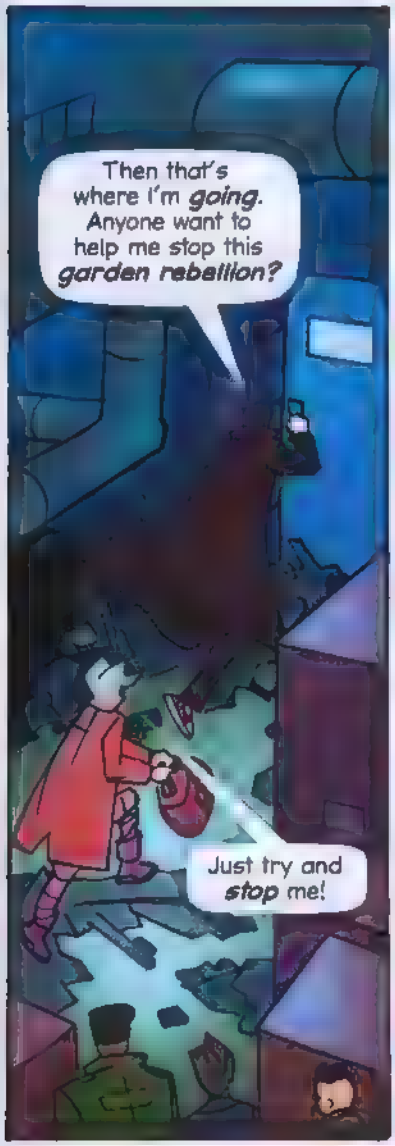
What are those things? Half robot, half garden centre. Are they aliens?
No, they're Gardenizens. Eco-drones designed to offset the carbon footprint of everyone in Britain.



I called mine Arthur. He was lovely company, until one day he went mad. They all did. Started rounding up people, taking them to prison camps.
The nearest camp is in Kew Gardens, along with their main command centre. That's where they'll have taken your friend.



Then that's where I'm going. Anyone want to help me stop this garden rebellion?
Just try and stop me!

Eventually, they reach Kew Gardens.
The experimental greenhouse. That's the command centre, but there's only one way in, past those guards and through the front doors.
Suits me. I like to make an entrance. I'll keep them occupied while you release the prisoners. Wait for me back here.

Stepping out into the open, the Doctor is quickly surrounded.
Alright, lads? Where's the Head Gardener?

Inside the command centre.
Oh, that is beautiful. All these Eco-drones linked together, creating one huge super-brain.
IDENTIFY YOURSELF. YOUR BIOLOGY IS NOT HUMAN. WHAT ARE YOU?
Let's just say I'm an interested party. Interested in life on this planet, in all its forms, flora and fauna. How about you?
The humans have rendered this planet unable to sustain life. I represent plant-kind. We will no longer sustain human life.
You've already done enough to make your point. You can communicate with them now, change things. Call off the drones.
Yes... The planet must be saved. Can plant-kind trust humans to work with us, not against us?
I don't understand. The Gardenizens, they've shut down. All of them. They're just ordinary plants now.
Ha! There's only one person I know who can talk his way out of a planetary invasion.
WRRRRRRRRRRRR
CLICK!
Do you really think this time the human race will change its ways?
If nothing else, it'll make a trip to the garden centre more interesting. I always said talking to plants keeps them happy.
